Celebrating
a Season of Blessings

Methodist Children's Home
Offering Hope Since 1890

Methodist Children's Home is grateful for our faithful friends who contributed to a season of joy for our children and families. We were blessed to have your support as we celebrated the birth of our Savior and created special memories for our children.

Thank You

PRESIDENT'S PERSPECTIVE

Tim Brown

As we embark on a new year of service and opportunity at Methodist Children's Home (MCH), we are so grateful for the many groups, churches, Sunday school classes, individuals, and organizations who joyfully gave of their time and resources to bless our children, youth and families during the Christmas season. While in many ways the Christmas festivities put a bow on the end of a year, they also serve to encourage us and propel us into the new year with joy and confidence.

As a way to say "thank you" to the many generous benefactors who helped make Christmas a memorable occasion for the MCH community in 2016, we hope you will enjoy this special Christmas edition of Sunshine magazine. Inside you will see volunteers who helped wrap and distribute gifts, youth on our Waco campus worshipping and celebrating during special Christmas services and performances, families served by our MCH Family Outreach offices gathering for fellowship, and churches who blessed us by spending time with our youth and also giving generously.

Through it all, I hope you see clearly that God is at work among us. Christmas is a time we celebrate the birth of our Savior and also represents the perfect time to convey to those we serve that God's perfect gift of His Son, Jesus, provides a way for us all to receive the gift of salvation and a hope everlasting. Through the generosity of faithful friends of MCH, lives are being changed. The tangible and spiritual impact of this support is felt at Christmas and throughout the year.

I believe 2017 will be a year filled with even greater opportunities for MCH to help children, youth and families navigate life's challenges and find the hope they so desperately need. On behalf of Methodist Children's Home, thank you for all you do to support us as we offer hope through this nurturing, Christian community.

CHURCH CONTINUES TRADITION OF GIVING AT CHRISTMAS

For many of us, riding a bicycle as a child is one of our fondest early memories. According to a Sunshine article published in January 1991, this sentiment was the driving force behind a tradition of giving to Methodist Children's Home (MCH) by one of its loyal supporters, First United Methodist Church of Grapevine.

Celebrating a Season of Blessings

Christmas at MCH

Donating a bicycle to every child at MCH that wants one was started by a FUMC Grapevine member Jim Kennebrew who took the idea to his Sunday school class. The class worked together to refurbish used bicycles for the children of MCH. According to the article, Kennebrew remembered his best Christmas as a child was when he received his first bicycle, and he wanted to pass along that feeling of excitement to other children.

That initial act of generosity has transformed into a giving campaign supported by the entire church that has continued since the late 1980s, making it one of the longest-standing traditions at MCH.

"We are so thankful for FUMC Grapevine and their commitment to giving the children in our care the experience of receiving a brand new bicycle for Christmas," said Allison Crawford, director of benefactor relations at MCH. "This tradition has been blessing our kids for more than 30 years and we look forward to continuing this tradition for years to come."

For Christmas 2016, FUMC Grapevine donated 122 bicycles and helmets along with repair kits for the children of MCH. The bikes went to residents on the Waco campus and Boys Ranch, young adults served through the Transition Services program, and children served through MCH Family Outreach in Dallas.

Ted Vaughan, a member of FUMC Grapevine since 2003, led the efforts this year. He said the church has consistently communicated that "our goal is to reach beyond ourselves to touch the lives of others" which drives their desire to give to the children of MCH.

"The mission has always been a success because of the turnout and enthusiasm of the church," Vaughan said. Vaughan has participated in the bike tradition since 2003 and said he has seen the tradition carry over through families, as many children who are now in high school and college continue to return every year to help out.

The giving process begins each October when the church corresponds with MCH to find out how many children are hoping for bicycles this year. FUMC Grapevine then negotiates prices with local sports stores and makes the purchase. Then on a Friday in early December a few weeks before MCH Christmas celebrations, church members put the bicycles together and load them onto a truck. Several members drive the truck down to Waco to deliver the bicycles in person. The bicycles are then unloaded by the church members as well as staff and youth from MCH.

Vaughan said he is proud of the efforts of his church, which participates in numerous mission projects including the bike tradition for MCH, adding he believes collectively we can make a difference.

"It has been through the love, the care and the hard work of these team members that I have learned the most and I am truly inspired to contribute to something greater than myself," he said. "I have seen amazing results appear through these missions, most which I could never have imagined when I started the mission. To be placed and witness the love of God appear on Earth is a blessing for me and all involved in these missions, and it provides an opportunity for us to see how the world can be a better place."

The Gift of Time

We appreciate our loyal friends who took time out to wrap and deliver gifts for our children in order to make this a special experience for them! Thank you to representatives from Calvary Chapel Waco, Mansfield United Methodist Church, Oncor Diversity Council, Scottish Rite Waco and Waco Fire Department – Station 7 for all their help during the holiday season.

The Joys of Fellowship

Our residential youth and staff celebrate Christmas together during a special worship service called Carols and Candles. "Carols and Candles is for our community what Christmas Eve services are in a local church setting," said Kim Clark, director of spiritual development. "This time of worship is a reminder that God loved each of us enough to send His Son to live amongst us and a reminder that He continues to love us by being present and active in our hearts and our world. We want that to be the spirit of our celebration for Christmas."

After the service, youth return to their homes to open gifts donated through church donations and our Secret Santa program. Thanks to the generous contributions of our supporters, our youth experience joy and gratitude during this special time and are able to feel special knowing that someone remembered them at Christmas.

Youth at Methodist Children's Home (MCH) have the opportunity to participate in worship services expressing their talents through song and dance.

The Spiritual Development staff work each week with youth who want to learn more about their God-given talents and how to channel these gifts in a positive way. These youth express their faith through praise dance, music, worship art and some also attend weekly Bible studies.

On Dec. 11, the Praise Team led the service by reading Scripture, interpreting Scripture through praise dance, and celebrating the birth of Christ through song.

"This was a wonderful community experience," said Ahmad Washington, spiritual development minister. "The youth performing did a great job of communicating the message of the season as well as being supportive of their peers and enjoying the service."

Youth who are part of the Praise Team run their own practices with staff assistance. The youth also choreograph the dances.

"This allows youth to have leadership roles," added Washington. "It also helps teach youth how to be part of the process of a worship service and it being all that God wanted it to be."

Celebrating in Our Communities

Every year our MCH Family Outreach offices host Christmas parties with the families and children they serve. Many of these celebrations are possible due to the support and sponsorship by local churches and organizations who provide venues, toys or supplies. MCH is blessed to have friends throughout Texas and New Mexico who show compassion to our families during this wonderful season.
